WASHINGTON NOTES

By Congressman Clair Engle

FEDERAL AID HIGHWAY ACT

During the last days of the session Congress passed and sent to the President a federal aid highway act for the fiscal years 1950-51.

The bill, which is really an extension of the 1944 act, authorizes federal matching money in the amount of $450,000,000 for each fiscal year for construction and maintenance of primary, secondary and urban roads. Based on the present matching formula, California's apportionment should be around $19,000,000.

FOREST DEVELOPMENT ROADS

Of particular interest to the Second Congressional District are authorizations for funds for forest highways, development of roads and trails within national forests and access roads to and within national parks.

An authorization of $20,000,000 each fiscal year is provided for forest highways that are part of regular primary highways extending through national forests. For development of roads and trails within the forest the bill authorizes $17,500,000 ayear of which approximately $10,000,000 will be for new construction. Of the latter amount around $2,000,000 probably will be allocated to California.

Approximately $10.000,000 is authorized for roads and trails within the national parks and monuments, and $12,500,000 for access roads to parks ad monuments.

APPROPRIATIONS NEEDED

The authorization for forest development roads is far under the $20,000,000 authorized for the 1946-47 fiscal years when a concerted effort was made to increase lumber production.

If the new road bill becomes law, the next step will be to obtain appropriations as funds under the bill are only authorized. Actually appropriations must be made by the Appropriation committees.

Pending such appropriations anyone interested in obtaining a forest road project should contact the supervisor of the forest. If approved by him the proposed project must be cleared by the Forest Service Regional Office and then the department officials in Washington.

FISCAL 1949 FUNDS

Manwhile, for fiscal 1949 the Forest Service has been given an appropriation of $9,750,000 for forest road development, of which approximately $7,500,000 will be spent for maintenance of existing roads, and $2,250,000 for new construction. The appropriation will be divided among 48 states which will cut individual allocations pretty thin.

NUGGET GROWS, SHOPPER IS DISCONTINUED

NEVADA CITY: A greatly expanded, eight-page weekly edition of the Nevada City-Grass Valley Nugget will be produced beginning next week. according to an announcement today by Harley Leete, Jr., publisher.

The new publication day of the Nugget will be Thursday afternoons. After this issue (Tuesday, July 6,) the next issue will be Thursday. July 15, and every Thursday thereafter.

In order to release production and management facilities for this development, the Nugget Shopper, a free-distribution publication, will be discontinued. The Shopper, which since November, 1947, has blanketed Nevada County. with the exception of Truckee, as well as much of Sierra County, was founded by Leete, with Howard J. Smiley.

Leete said he had decided to devote his time and the production facilities of the Nugget Press to the development of the Nevada City-Grass Valley Nugget as a county-wide weekly, and to continue the progressive expansion and modernization of the Nugget Press's regional printing.

The heavy volume of the Nugget Shopper, with its 6300 circulation, Leete said, deprived the other, older, departments of the business of the full attention they merited.

The result of the new policy will be a greatly expanded eight page weekly, devoted to maximum coverage of local news and features. with a generous complement of local photographs.

SPRING HILL MINE CLOSES

GRASS VALLEY: The Spring Hill Mine after continuous operation of 16 years is preparing to close. C. C. Cushwa, for 11 years general manager, made this announcement July 1.

He stated the reason for closing was due to an accumulative loss, particularly during the last three months. He attributed the loss to the increasingly high cost of production with no prospect of an increase in the price of gold.

The mine has been in operation snce 1932 by the Spring Hill Mining Corporation of San Francisco, of which G. E. Honn is president. In normal times 30 men were employed but of late only 20 miners were at work. These have been engaged for several weeks in clean-up and salvage work.

This year's Republican Convention will be the 24th, the first took place 92 years ago in 1856.

FINNEGAN RESIGNS-GAME ISSUE, D. A., SHERIFF, CHIEF, CLOSE TOWN

NEVADA CITY: No illegal gambling in Nevada City. That's what Chief of Police Max Solaro says, and he backs it up by declaring that Saturday and Sunday he toured the cafes and cocktail lounges of Broad Street with Undersheriff Otis Hardt, and issued a stern warning.

District Attorney Vernon Stoll said this morning that he had ordered Sheriff Richard W. Hoskins to pick up any slot machine he found in Nevada County. With Police Chief Solaro, Hardt then made the tour of the resorts. No arrests were made.

The board will meet this evening to elect a resident and clerk. Joseph Henwood is the present president. and Larry Prisk is clerk.

PERSONALS

NEVADA CITY: Mr. and Mrs. Waverly Price, and two young children, and Mrs. Fred Werle and daughter, Mary Jo, all of Seattle, are guests of Mrs. Nancy James of this city.

Frederick Palmer, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Palmer, is visiting with his grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Cassidy of 414 Main Street.

Frank G. Finnegan, who resigned as city attorney Saturday, had little to add to his statement. He said that the city council at an executive session, seemed bent on lifting barriers to wide open gambling, meaning slot machines and card games for the three-day holiday, that he was opposed and therefore resigned.

Finnegan on Saturday sent his resignation in to the city council. His letter states "I feel the city coucil refused to follow my advice with respect to enforcement of the law during the Fourth of July celebration."

No other details were given in the letter for the reasons for resignation.

Max A. Solaro, chief of police, remarked: "As far as I am concerned there will be no illegal gambling during the celebration." Mayor Arthur B. Innis had no statement to make regarding the incident.

As a matter of fact, two of the city council called on the district attorney, told him that the sheriff had said he would not intervene in the Nevada City situation unless he was ordered to do so by the district attorney. They asked the district attorney what he was going to do about it.

District Attorney Stoll said: "I'll show you." He reached for his phone, called up the sheriff and ordered him to seize any slot machines and arrest anyone found gambling illegally.

Will Pay Drunken Driving Fine In Monthly Installments

NEVADA CITY: Arthur Hanson, 40, of Susanville, Lassen County, appeared before Justice of the Peace George Gildersleeve June 30 and pleaded guilty to drunken driving. He was fined $150 and was allowed to pay it in monthly installments. The arrest was made by the highway patrol east of Nevada City on Highway 20

NEVADA [illegible] grand parade on Broad Street [illegible] climaxing a three--day celebration, was judged by old timers, one of the best ever put on in this community. Comprising over 60 units, and moving at a brisk pace, it took a solid hour to pass the corner of Broad and Pine.

Orley Coldwell, stockman of Anthony House, was Grand Marshall in ylace of Sheriff Richard Hoskins, who chose to lead his Posse. Coldwell, wearing a gold satin shirt, was mounted on a handsome Palomino.

Beautiful Diane Crase was Queen of the Fourth, attended by her three charming ladies-in-wating, Annabelle Roberts, Mario Basso and Belle Benedict.

A statuesque Goddess of Liberty, on an elegant Elk's float was Irene Barbieri.

Some of the highlights of the magnificent float display included: Elza Kilroy, as a prospector on the Nevada City Firemen's Float, panning gold. In his pan were a tiny boy and girl, dressed in gold—"nuggets"; the great 8 inch monitor of the old Malakoff hydrulic diggings, a Gulartie and Halstead Pharmacy float; the Nevada City Fire Department Drum Corps; an old fashioned square dance in full swing by the Nuggeteers, on a truck bed; Brownies marching with a flag in their midst, clutching its edges; the Grass Valley Firemen in uniform; the Bret Harte Dairy float of hundreds of brilliant gladioli, the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars with both floats and marching units, the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West with splendid floats too numerous to mention.

Bringing upthe rear, for very practical reasons were the mounted units, including the Sheriff's Posse, the Gold Trail Riders, and the Sheriff's Posse-ette, comprised of wives of Sheriff's Posse members.

In the afternoon there was the time-honored water fight between the Nevada City and Grass Valley firemen, in which the stalwart fire-eaters endeavored to sweep each other into Deer Creek. Nevada City won.

The parade was high point in a week-end celebration that was adjudged a success in every aspect. Saturday night Broad Street was jammed to the walls of buildings with an enthusiastic crowd witnessing the crowning of Queen Diane Crase, excellent folk-dancing by the Nuggeteers, and splendid dancing revues by the Starlet School of the Theater and the Imperial School of the Dance.

Roy Deeter was master of ceremonies, and the Town Talk Singers, consisting of Mrs. Charles Kitts, Mrs. Rose French, Mrs. Charles Hilpert and Mrs. Cyril Kerrin, provided vocal interludes.

An important contribution to the gayiety and tone of the whole celebration was the music of Harold George's band.

The success of the celebration was considered due to the high degree of co-operation, spark-plugged by the Chamber of Commerce under President Paul Bergemann, and General Chairman Al Irby, and activated by the hard work of all organized groups in the community as well as the generous efforts of a large number of individuals.

Merchants and business men contributed to the Fourth of July atmosphere by decorating their windows with old-time relics and patriotic items.

Strong support of the celebration by Grass Valley and other surrounding communities was a prime factor in making the Fourth a success.

The aquacade produced by Verl Gray at the city pool, Pioneers Par, was deemed a great success. Gray put on a humorous exhibition of clown diving and directed the efforts of the Camp Fire Girls from Lake Vera, who put on a splendid exhibition of diving, and swimming.

CANAL BREAK IS REPAIRED

GRASS VALLEY: The break in the Combe-Ophir Canal of the Nevada Irrigation District, was quickly repaired July 1st. A gopher hole in the bank caused the break.

Water is again flowing in the Deer Creek South Canal, after the 64 feet of embankment slipped downhill on Tuesday. The canal is now carrying about three fourths of its usual volume of water. For a time it was feared that Grass Valley, which the canal supplies, might be forced to curtail its water supply. Twenty men worked all night in constructing a new flume to take the place of the earth which slipped.

BAR OWNERS, JR. CHAMBER GIVE FIREWORKS DISPLAY

NEVADA CITY: On Shaw's Hill between Grass Valley and Nevada City last evening there was a great display of fire works sponsored by the Grass Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce. Twenty five tocktil lounge and cafe owners, financed the pyrotechnic display.

The red glare and the soaring rockets were witnessed by residence of both Grass Valley and Nevada City, and from as far away, reportedly, as Downieville in Sierra County. and Auburn in Placer County. Fuses of 112 pieces of fire works were set off during the evening, ranging from 9-inch salutes to huge 15-inch shells.

Fourth of July is always the occasion for a great home coming of old time residents, their sons and daughters. The traffic of home comers presented a groblem Saturday, but Chief of Police Max olaro, announced that the California Highway Patrol and Grass Valley police force was assisting him in routing traffic and preventing congestion.

PERSONALS

NEVADA CITY: Mrs. Leland Smith and her mother, Mrs. F. L. Caldwell, have returned from Lakeport, California, where they visited F. W. Caldwell and family. Mr. Leland Smith, who has been with the State Division of Forestry for the past two months, returned home with them.

GOLD DIGGER'S TRAIL

Charles Scott Haley

Next morning, I found that Dick had taken my partner away to another stope, so I was to work alone. I fell to work with a vim on the muckpile, trying to warm myself up, but about eleven o'clock I was halted by Mike Roana, who stopped his machine up at the head of the stope to yell down at me, "Hey son—taper now till noon. Don't ye know that ye've more dirt already than two av ye did yester' mornin' all by yerself. That won't do, son—it's puttin' old John in wrong." I saw the logic of it, and sat down till lunch time.

For half an hour, we all collected out in the incline which ran up from the shaft to 34 level, and at our lunches—full, satisfying food. All of my companions were either "cousins" of the old stock or Irishmen. Pasties were eaten by the dozen, and how good they were. The scraps were thrown in a heap and a ring of candle snuffs lit around them. We sat and watched the great grey rats hungrily sniffing round the circle, but drawing back from the candle flames in terror. Finally a leader, bigger and bolder than the rest, leaped over to the food, breaking the ring of snuffs as he did so. In a twinkling, dozens of others followed him, and the pile of scraps had vanished. The show being over, we all ambled back to our various stations.

The old time Cornish miners won my respect and liking from then on. There were no miners in the world who were better at breaking ground with a minimum of hole and powder. On coming to a face, the first thing they would do would be bar down and make everything absolutely safe on that they needed no instruction from anybody. Then the machine man and his helper would sit down and smoke for half an hour while studying the face. Not a cross seam or cleavage escaped this inspection. Then they barred up and set the heavy machines—which in those days weighed from a hundred to one hundred and fifty pounds—and when they got their round in, it always broke every inch of ground—no bootlegs and no missed holes, except once in a while from unseen defects in the fuse. They were indeed masters of their craft, and the world is the worse for their passing.

Simple, kindly men, who made their heads save their hands, they taught an impressionable youngster many of the tricks of their craft with the greatest patience and good nature. Their philosophy with regard to "highgrading" was accepted by everyone from the lowliest mucker to the owners—who at that time

Just Wonderin'

I Wonder when the moonlight falls
In golden glory on the sea,
And every little lisping tide
Is fraught with ocean's mystery,
If life's good angels come to us
Through the soft silence of the night,
Bidding us keep our priceless faith,
Our sure belief in truth and right.

I think there is nothing comparable to a moonlit night by the sea; there is a magic in moonlight at all times, but by the sea shore, with a golden path reaching from one's feet, out over limitless leagues of restless waves, and leading to some unknown region far away, its effect becomes irresistible; all our olden fancies and dreams come back again and life's better angels whisper of those eternal verities that nothing can destroy.

The most precious things of life are indestructible; it is good to realize that fact, when we are tempted to fear that our civilization is disintegrating and that our dreams of better days to come may never, never come true. We may still keep our tryst with faith, hope and charity and I like to remember that of the three, charity is the greatest. Not faith, though upon its wings our minds may soar beyond the limits of time and space, not hope which lends us courage to go on dreaming dreams and working for their fulfillment, but charity, which keeps us here upon the earth, among our fellow men and points the way to human service, sympathy and understanding.

Truth, justice and right cannot but survive, even in a world of chaos they cannot be denied. "Truth crushed to earth will rise again," justice though blind will triumph in the end, right will eventually overcome wrong.

Let us not forget mercy, tolerance and forgiveness, these also are indestructible. Let us remember the lines written of mercy by Shakespeare many years ago:

The quality of mercy is not strained,
It droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven
Upon the place beneath; it is twice blessed;
It blesseth him who gives and him that takes."

Oh, yes, life's better angels still walk the earth even in these days of strife and confusion they come to bless us yet. Let us welcome them and cultivate their gracious company. Let us look from the dark shadows of the past and of the present and envision the future that is to be.

Night and shadows will flee away; there will be sunlight after rain and dawn succeeds the darkest night. This strange world of ours always has been and always will be looking for the light, ever and always moving upward and onward.

ailers Help Ease Steel Shortage

IRON SPRINGS, UTAH—A fleet of Fruehauf Dump Trailers working in the huge Utah iron pits, is contributing nobly toward relief of the steel shortage in the West. Day after day these trailers, owned and operated by Utah Construction Company, deliver 750 tons of ore from the mine to the crusher at the railhead. Loads average 50 tons and each trailer makes 15 trips daily. Ore from the Utah mine is converted into iron at the blast furnace of Kaiser Steel Mills, Fontana California.

VAPOR LOCK

When an automobile motor quits suddenly on a mountain grade or refuses to start after a short stop on a hot day, the trouble may be vapor lock, advises the California State Automobile Association. The immediate remedy is to wait for the motor to cool sufficiently to dissipate accmulated gas vapor from the fuel lines. For a permanent remedy a competent mechanic should be consulted.

THE RIGHT WAY

If more motorists would give thought to the right way, and be less assertive about the right of way, many traffic accidents would be averted, points out the California State Automobile Association.

San Francisco has 770 miles of paved streets.

As the stopes where the best of the rock was broken showed free gold in the face, it was the duty of the "specimen boss" to make the ounds first thing, and fill his bag with the more obvious pieces, which he broke out with a hand pick. But he could not prospect the muck piles, and muckers and machine men alike had small tobacco sacks hidden in under turn sheets and other places, which they filled with their "take" about once in two weeks and carried to the surface on a string tied round their waists. In the change room, this was easily concealed fom the not very strict watchman by changing your shirt first and letting the tail drop down.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Will's Hospitality Isn't "Cracked"!

Ever since January, Will Dudley planned to give his living room that "new look"—planned to carefully refinish the woodwork and replaster the walls.

Every time Will got out the putty to start filling in the cracks, a neighbor stopped by to pass the time of day—and first thing you knew, there was a group of us helping Will do the job up right. After Will called a halt to the evening's work, we'd sit around the fire enjoying a friendly argument and a sparkling glass of mellow beer.

So Will's living room doesn't look like it did a year ago—but it's by far the most "livable" living room I know: A place you can always drop in for good talk, good beer, and a warm welcome.

From where I sit, so long as Will puts that atmosphere of hospitality and good fellowship ahead of everything else, we'll all be happy to help Will change the looks of his living room any time he wants.

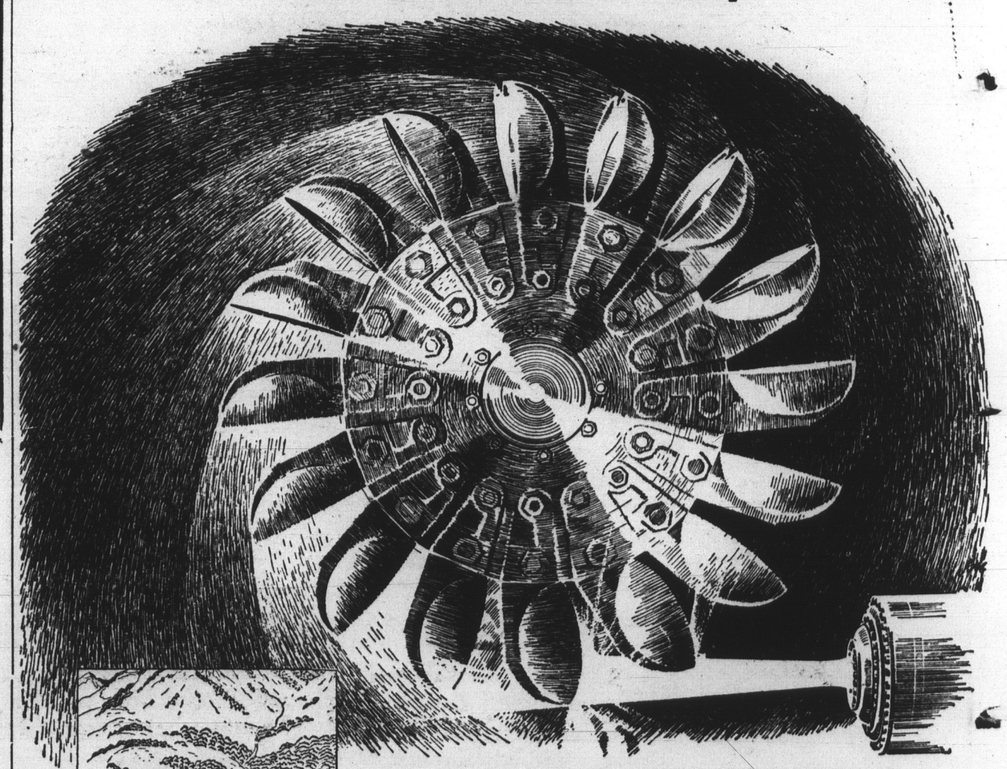
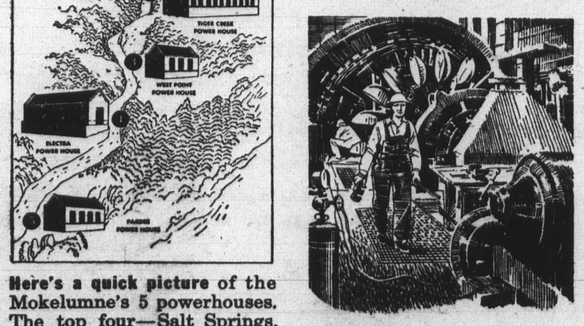
How to get power from water five times ...and not consume a drop



Water shooting from nozzles with rocket force spins 16-ton water wheels like toy tops in P. G. and E. powerhouses . . . but not a drop is wasted—it's put to work again and again.

Five different times, for example, water is borrowed from the Mokelumne River and sent rushing through penstocks (giant steel pipes) to whirl the generators. Then it's sent back on its way to municipal water supplies and farmer's irrigation ditches.



Here's a quick picture of the Mokelumne's 5 powerhouses. The top four—Salt Springs, Tiger Creek, West Point and Electra—are P. G. and E. plants. They will soon have a total capacity of 250,000 electrical horsepower—enough to serve the cities of Oakland, Stockton and Tracy.

Newest of the group is the big 133,000 horsepower Electra plant shown here in the final stages of construction. It will come on the line this month, bringing still more new power to serve growing California.

For the record

P. G. and E.'s water storage helps supply irrigation needs along the Mokelumne

New Electra replaces one of California's earliest hydro plants...in continuous service since 1902

The Mokelumne project is just part of America's largest interconnected power system

Work never stops on our power-building program

Veterans' News

Veterans Administration today issued instructions to eliminate avocational and recreational courses under the G-I Bill. The instructions are based on restrictions contained in Supplemental Independent Offices Appropriation Act 1949. The law specifies that no part of the appropriation may be used to pay for an courses started after June 30, 1948, which the Administrator of Veterans Affairs determines to be avocational or recreational.

The restricting proviso further stipulates that flight training and related aviation courses a veteran may take in connection with his present or contemplated business or occupation shall not be considered avocational or recreational in character. Veterans presently enrolled in all courses affected by the new law will be permitted to complete their training, VA said.

Training determined by VA to be avocational or recreational in character includes certain courses in:

1. Dancing, photography, glider, bar tending and mixology, personality development, entertainment, instrumental and vocal music, public speaking, sports and athletics.

2. Any single subject courses which are not part of a general educational or training program leading to an educational or reemployment objective;

3. All other courses which VA's Regional Office Managers know are used frequently in their areas for avocational or recreational purposes.

An elementary flight or private pilot course or a commercial pilot course elected by a veteran at an approved school will not be considered avocational or recreational if the veteran submits the following to the regional office prior to entering training:

1. Complete justification that such a course is in connection with his present or contemplated business or occupation, and;

2. Satisfactory evidence that he is physically qualified to obtain the type of license which will enable him to attain his employment objective.

VA will continue to consider flight training, offered as an elective subject by an institution of higher learning, as a separate course. As a result, such flight training is subject to the two foregoing requirements. Flight courses which are required by the institution as a part of the institutions standard credit hour requirement for the veterans degree objective will not be considered avocational or recreational in character when the institution certifies to VA that the veteran is required to take that training for the credit necessary to complete his degree requirements.

With bicycles still hard to get, this practical young sub-deb, Miss Chickie Arnold, does her part to help curb the mean practice of bicycle thievery She locks her bike securely with a new Yale ziplock when parking it! The red lock case is zipped up the notched steel shackle to fit any size opening needed to safely lock bicycles, duffle bags and camping equipment. Case and shackle cannot be separated when the lock is open. SEA FIGHTERS CHANGE ARMOR - - NOT HEARTS

From the inception of the Navy Department a century and a half ago American warships have vastly changed from wooden frigates and privateers to steel-hulled battleships, cruisers, and carriers, but the will to fight in defense of America has undergone no transition. The veteran USS Constitution, shown in upper photo in battle with the British ship GUERRIERE in 1812, rests in retirement in Boston, content to repose the security of her country today in such craft as the USS Alaska (lower), American version of the German pocket battleship. Construction began on the Alaska 10 days after the Pearl Harbor attack, yet she had ample time to participate in many strikes against the Japanese in World War II. (Official Navy Photograph)

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"The hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him" (John 4:23). This is the Golden Text for the Lesson-Sermon in Christian Science churches for Sunday, July 11. The subject is "Sacrament."

Included in the sermon are the following citations:

Matthew: "Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God" (5:8).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual Life and its demonstration" (p. 241).

In thousands of farm homes of the west, as in thousands of city homes, Fuller's Fullerglo is the preferred interior wall finish. Its semi-lustrous, satin-like texture adds beauty to any room in the home. It is particularly popular for kitchens and bathrooms, because it resists humidity, and withstands repeated washing. Now its proved quality becomes more impressive than ever are even more attractive than in the past!

FIRST in Value . . .

FIRST in Big-Car Quality at Lowest Prices . . .

FIRST in Registrations

ALWAYS THE VALUE-LEADER . . . always the first choice of people who want the finest at lowest cost . . . Chevrolet's value-leadership is now so outstanding that men and women everywhere are deciding it's more than ever the preferred investment in its field!

Not only does Chevrolet stand out as the first and only low-priced car with all the following major advances which comprise the soundest and best in modern motoring . . . not only does it offer all these major advantages of Big-Car quality at lowest prices . . . but it offers them at prices that are now definitely and decisively lower than those of any other car that even remotely approaches it in quality!

It's the first and only low-priced car with the original and outstanding Unitized Knee-Action Ride. It's the first and only low-priced car with a world's champion Valve-in-Head Engine. It's the first and only low-priced car with the enviable Body by Fisher. It's the first and only low-priced car with the triple safety-protection of Fisher Unisteel Body-Construction, the Unitized Knee-Action Ride and Positive-Action Hydraulic Brakes.

And yet, despite the fact that CHEVROLET AND ONLY CHEVROLET IS FIRST to offer all these major advancements of low-cost motoring, it holds an even greater price-advantage and gives you even more value for your dollars in comparison with other automobiles today than at any previous time in Chevrolet history!

That is why more people are buying Chevrolets than any other make of car, this year as for the total 17-year period, 1931 to date; that is why they are agreeing, with ever mounting enthusiasm, that Chevrolet is first in dollar-value as it is first in nation-wide demand.

Compare Values!... Compare Prices!...

CHEVROLET—and Only CHEVROLET—IS FIRST!
